“ I asked myself, ‘How do we provide these opportunities for people to explore careers in tech?’ ”

NAME Alex Horner '17 (left)
HOMETOWN Proctor, Vermont
MAJOR Business Administration
INTERNSHIP Marketing and Data Analysis for the Downtown Rutland Partnership

At IC, Alex teamed up with students in his entrepreneurship class to develop an app to help people stop smoking. They worked on StopPack at Rev, a startup incubator in Ithaca that offers mentorship and support for new businesses.

After graduating, Alex returned to Vermont to launch his own coding academy in Burlington.

Why did you choose IC?

I wanted a small environment to thrive in, connect to my professors, and not get lost in the crowd.

Healing Strides

For the past year, Kendra Hubal '19 has worked as a volunteer at Kali's Klubhouse, a nonprofit organization that provides equine therapy for at-risk teens, children with special needs, and veterans.

Kendra is a speech pathology major, and she and her classmates help prepare the horses for their sessions with the children and walk alongside them as they ride.

Kendra also mentors at-risk teens there. Her experience as a teen at the farm helped her realize what she wanted to do with her life. She thought she wanted to study music, but after volunteering at Kali's Klubhouse, she decided on speech pathology.

“ I'm so thankful for the opportunity to help. Some of these children—you'll see them smile on the horse, or be vocal, and it's heart-warming. We call the farm a healing place, and that's truly what it is. ”

Ithaca is beautiful blanketed in snow.

But it's a great place to be any time of the year.

How to Start a Student Organization

It's easy to start your own club to bring your favorite hobby or volunteer opportunity to campus.

First thing's first: Go to the student organization fair to see if that thing you love is already on campus. Did you find it? If so, join it—and start sharing your interest with others!

If you don't find what you're looking for at the fair, here's what to do:

- 1 Meet with a student who will walk you through the start-up process.
- 2 Find more students to join you.
- 3 Get awesome student leaders to serve as officers.
- 4 Ask your favorite professor or staff member to be your advisor.
- 5 Fill out an online form.
- 6 Start making an impact in the IC community!

CREATING A FAMILY

Adrienne was adopted from Korea when she was six months old. Now, as a sophomore, she's started the first college chapter of the Jockey Being Family Campus Crew, an organization that supports adoptive families.

"I believe that every child deserves to grow up in a loving family. [Jockey Being Family] gives me a platform to spread positivity about adoption and inclusion."

MEET THE PROFESSOR

Donathan Brown

Associate Professor of Communication Studies

SPECIALTIES Race and policy, specifically surrounding voting rights and immigration

“ I prefer to hold conversations and debates as opposed to lecturing alone. I have always valued direct feedback as opposed to letting students decipher PowerPoint slides. ”

COURSES TAUGHT

- Race and Public Policy
- Intercultural Communication: Cultures in Conflict
- Political Communication: Campaigns and Elections
- Electing the President

MEET SOME OF PROFESSOR BROWN'S STUDENTS

Shyanne Ruiz '13 got a job working in immigration law after graduating from IC.

Jonathon Cummings '15 is getting his master's of public administration at Cornell and is a diplomatic engagement associate at the Global Peace Foundation and a global ambassador with the International Young Leaders Assembly.

Winter in Ithaca

Just because the temperature drops, it doesn't mean everyone stays huddled inside. Ithacans know how to make the most of the season with fun activities.

QMC: Please match white snow tones across these three images

- Check out ice sculptures at the Downtown Ithaca Ice Festival— quick, before they melt.
- Taste chili from more than 30 different restaurants during the Downtown Ithaca Chili Cook-Off.
- Grab snowshoes from the fitness center and hit the IC Natural Lands.
- Two words: snow castle
- Map out Ithaca's cafés and find out who makes the best hot cocoa.
- Go cross-country skiing on one of Ithaca's recreation trails.
- Hit the slopes at nearby Greek Peak. (IC even has a course in skiing and snowboarding!)
